Police Will Focus on School Zone Enforcement

CHEYENNE, Wyo.— The Cheyenne Police Department will be focusing on school zone enforcement starting Wednesday Aug. 24 throughout the city.

As school starts again, expect to see a higher visibility of police and a continuation of strict enforcement in school zones.

All drivers should be mindful of where the school zones start and remain alert for the flashing yellow lights and posted school zone signs. When entering a school zone, drivers are required to reduce their speed to 20 mph and yield to pedestrians at crosswalks. Speeding in a school zone could cost you a citation ranging from $110 to $360.

Drivers should also be aware they are required to stop for school buses that have flashing red lights activated. The school district has installed multiple cameras on school buses in an effort to deter violations and create a safer environment for the students. Passing a school bus with its flashing red lights activated is a $400 citation.
